"You pays your money and you takes your choice.'

There are hats and then again there are HATS-and many hats that wear well-and there are hats that wear well and look well. The only hat we know that combines durability and elegance is the "Miller." Have you ever had one? Then don't wait a minute, but go and get one while "wanting." We are sole agents for those celebrated manufac turers, "Dickerson & Brown," whose productions for the last twenty years have been considered "au fait" by those who are supposed to be the "Arbiters of Fashion."

Hat. Then again we are well fixed in Spring Wear. Did you examine our line of clothing, Nobby Suits, Stylish Cutaways and Stately Prince Alberts (there's going to be lots of the latter worn this year.)

One of the greatest attractions ever seen in a clothing house is a stylish blue sack suit, low rolled collar, silk faced. We are the only house in Montana that shows this style very handsome. Only, $25.

Another attraction is a Spring Overcoat, silk lined which together with the sleeve linings are the same as the goods, very stylish, made by Benjamin (not Harris), of New York. We defy a tailor to match it for $60. You can have it for half the money. We have them at all prices as low as $7.50.

It makes our head ache when we look at our stock. It is too large. Just think so many goods in such a small room as ours.

We have to get rid of some of the knife into a number of lots and the very life blood of profits flow from our sales. Just think, a nice Nobby suit any of four different styles all wool and only a ten dollar bill puts one of them on your back.

200 doz. ties just arrived-100 doz. from Wilson Bros. of 100 doz. from Howell of Philadelphia, strangers to this trade, Office 200 Bridge St. but dandy tie makers. Come and look at the goods they make and if you don't buy a tie or two you can take.

The next float represented "Washington and his Generals Mounted." Washington, as commander-in-chief, occupied the center of the line, with Major-Generals Ward, Putnam, Phitip Schuyler, and Charles Lee on either side. Closely following were nine brigadier generals, the number appointed at the continental congress at Philadelphia in 1775; also the Marquis de Lafayette, Baron Steuben, Inspector General, Count Rochambeau and others. Following this came a float representing "Washington Crossing the Delaware," with guard of several hundred cadets in uniform. Then came 3,500 school childres escorting a tableau of "Washington at Valley Forge." It represented the winter quarley Forge." It represented the winter quarters at Valley Forge and the meeting of Gen. Washington with Baron Steuben, and sick and wounded soldiers.

The Exempt Firemen's association of the city, to the number of 200, came next. After them Tammany Hail braves. A genuine Indian squaw and two copper colored braves with the color more than skin deep accompanied them. The other displays in the line included a mammoth giobe representing the New York World, the Manhattan Ship Joiners association, with a mammoth model of a ship, the Hoboken fire department, with their antiquated hook and ladder. Several temperance societies and the Knights of Pythias preceded the float "Resignation of the Commission," and the Yonkers Cadet Corps escorted "The First Inauguration." to memorialize congress to grant subsidies to steamship lines to Central and South America; also pledging southern manu-America; also piedging southern manufacturers to pay ten cents per hundred pounds more for cotton baled in cotton or other light bagging than in jute bagging. The impression seems to prevail that the baling of the cotton crop in cotton bagging is not altogether practical, but the spirit of manufacturers is to do all in their power to aid the planters. to aid the planters.

PARNELL'S STORY. The Irish Leader Tells the Times Com mission About His Work.

London, May 1.—The direct examination of Parnell was concluded at to-day's session of the Parnell commission. Parnell declared he had conducted the Irish agitation constitutionally. The cross-exagitation constitutionally. The cross-ex-amination then begun. Sir Charles Russell, counsel for the Par ites, put in extracts adverse to Parnel Parnell admitted knowing that Mooney had no connection with Patrick Ford since 1881. Parnell emphatically denied that his Irish schemes ever included a coalition with the Fenians in order to expel the aimed to destroy landlordism, but not to drive individuals from the country, and he never had any idea of resorting to Illegal means. He did not recollect meeting Davitt and John O'Leary in 1878 and discussing with them a possible alliance between the Nationalists and Fernians.

Attorney-General Webster here read a violent manifesto signed by John Devoy and others and issued at Dublin. Parned declared he never heard of it before. He had met Devoy, Breslin, Fin-rty and Alexavow that he felt it was no part of his duty to exclude any one from the league on ac-count of his antecedents. He wanted to include in it all Irishmen, trusting that would accept the ional form of agi-had aimed at askasking the Physical Force Men to abandon ir movement and to accept his. To because they did not immediately agree would have been very foolish. He did not remember making a speech at Lynn, Mass., in which it was alleged he had said knees the time would have come to realize have been thinking of the constitutional agitation failing. At Troy somebody of-fered him $5 for bread and $20 for lead. He did not object to the offer, because he thought the offer only meant $5 for charitable work and $20 for league work.

Delegate Dubois' Views on the Probability among the republican victors which it was generally expected would happen through the influence of Mr. Blaine.

He has soured and alienated Senator Quay beyond hope of reconciliation, and has thereby set an example to dry up the sources of party enthusiasm, break the bonds of party organization and destroy the hope of reward for even the greatest party services. Howthe interstate law, though it may have vio-lated its agreement with the other Central Traffic and Trunk Line Association roads. The object of Armour and Swift in making a five years' contract was to establish the maximum rate for that time to New York at 45 cents and prevent the associations from advancing the rates beyond that point. The Baitimore & Ohio's advantage in making such a contract is that the in making such a contract is that it is guaranteed by these firms a certain proportion of their eastbound beef traffic, during the term of the contract, and it is stipulated that in case other lines should reduce their rate below 30 cents per 100 pounds the Baltimore & Olio perd not so below 30 the Baltimore & Ohio need not go below 30
